

Website Terms and Conditions

These Website Terms and Conditions govern your use of the Mediation4Families website. By accessing or using our website, you agree to be bound by these terms. If you do not agree, you should not use the website.

About us

Mediation4Families provides family mediation services and related information. The website is intended to provide general information and to support enquiries and bookings.

Website content and no legal advice

The content on this website is provided for general information only. It does not constitute legal advice, and it should not be relied upon as a substitute for obtaining professional advice tailored to your circumstances.

Access and availability

We aim to keep the website available and accurate, but we do not guarantee that access will be uninterrupted, secure, or error-free. We may suspend, withdraw, or restrict the availability of all or any part of the website for business or operational reasons.

Acceptable use

You must not use the website in a way that is unlawful, harmful, or interferes with its operation. In particular, you must not:

- Introduce viruses, trojans, worms, logic bombs, or other material that is malicious or technologically harmful.
- Attempt to gain unauthorised access to the website, the server on which it is stored, or any server, computer, or database connected to it.
- Use the website to transmit unsolicited advertising or promotional material.

Intellectual property

Unless stated otherwise, Mediation4Families owns or licenses the intellectual property rights in the website and its content. You may print or download extracts for your personal use, but you must not modify copies, use content out of context, or use it for commercial purposes without our prior written consent.

Links to other websites

This website may include links to third-party websites for your convenience. Such links do not imply our endorsement. We have no control over third-party content and accept no responsibility for it.

Limitation of liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Mediation4Families excludes all implied conditions, warranties, representations, or other terms that may apply to the website or its content. We will not be liable for any loss or damage (whether in contract, tort, negligence, breach of statutory duty, or otherwise) arising from your use of, or inability to use, the website or reliance on its content.

Nothing in these terms limits liability where it would be unlawful to do so, including for death or personal injury caused by negligence or for fraud.

Privacy

Our use of your personal data is governed by our Privacy Policy. Please review the Privacy Policy to understand how we collect and use personal data.

Changes to these terms

We may update these terms from time to time. The updated terms will apply from the date they are published on the website.

Governing law and jurisdiction

These terms are governed by the laws of England and Wales. The courts of England and Wales will have exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute arising out of or in connection with these terms or your use of the website.
